3 The defects in the existing system of accts in the matter of advances for boundary marks charges and land maintenance charges recoverable from raiyats are explained in paras 3 & 11 of Mr. Dallas note.

4 They consist chiefly of want of verification of the balances in the Complts books with the departmental books; with the result that departmental officers are not quite sure about the correctness of the amounts due by ryts.

5 The remedy proposed is explained in paras 5-9 & 12. The verification of the ryts' objections is proposed to be done at the initial stage of the taking of the case.

6 The proposal seems suitable.

Final Note by the First Member of Council.

Subject:—

Advances for boundary marks and tank maintenance charges recoverable from raiyats.

The Special officer, Mr. K.L. Datta submitted a Note dated 7th November 1917 on the subject of advances for boundary marks and tank maintenance charges recoverable from raiyats and has pointed out that the present procedure of adjustment is defective in that there is no agreement possible between the figures of the Revenue Department and those in the Comptroller's office. He proposed the adoption of a new procedure providing for the verification of the departmental and Audit office accounts at the initial stages in the Taluk office itself.

2. A similar arrangement is also suggested in respect of the charges recoverable from raiyats on account of restoration of minor tanks.

3. The Revenue Commissioner fully agrees with Mr. Datta's suggestions and the Financial Secretary concurs.

4. The draft order accepting Mr. Datta's proposal has been agreed to by the Members of Council and may now be approved.

Note No. 48, dated 7th November 1917, of Mr. K. L. Datta, Special Officer, on the subject of accounting of Advances for Boundary Marks and Tank Maintenance Charges recoverable from Raiyats.

(Printed in extenso as an accompaniment.)

2. Letter No. C. 2318, dated 4th February 1918, from the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore, stating that he fully agrees in the views expressed by Mr. Datta in his note.

Order No. Fl. 6333-82—G. F. 90-17-4, dated 24th April 1918.

In his note read above, Mr. Datta points out that in respect of the charges incurred by the Survey Department on account of boundary marks in occupied lands and recoverable from raiyats, there is at present no agreement between the figures shown in the Demand, Collection and Balance statements in accounts of the Revenue Department which is responsible for the recovery and those in the Comptroller's books, and that under the present arrangement verification of the two sets of figures is rendered impossible.

2. He accordingly proposes the adoption of a new procedure providing for the verification of the departmental and Audit Office accounts in the initial stage, i.e., at the Taluk Office instead of through the Deputy or the Revenue Commissioner.

3. A similar arrangement is also suggested in respect of the charges recoverable from raiyats on account of restoration of minor tanks.

4. The Government consider that the proposals of Mr. Datta, which are agreed to by the Revenue Commissioner, are suitable for adoption and are accordingly pleased to approve of them.

Taluk office to maintain a pass book.

7. The Taluk Office should maintain a pass book which should be sent to the Treasury every time a debit is proposed to the head "Boundary Marks Advances since July 1917" by credit to the head "Objection Book Advances." Similarly when recoveries are made on account of these advances and the amounts are remitted to the Treasury, the pass book should be sent to the Treasury with the challan and the Treasury Officer should note the credits in the pass book. The Treasury Officer will maintain a register in the form of the pass book and will note in it every debit and credit raised under the head. He will all also note the debits and credits in the pass book submitted by the Taluk Office with every voucher for a debit and with every remittance to be credited to the head. Care should be taken by the Taluk Revenue Office to see that no sum realised on account of an advance made prior to July 1917 is credited to this head or in the pass book. Such sums should continue to be credited to the old head "Advances for Boundary Marks Charges before July 1917."

Pass book to be agreed with Treasury Account.

8. The pass book should be sent for verification with the Treasury Accounts at the end of every month. The Taluk Treasury should send to the Comptroller every month a Plus and Minus Memo for the transactions passing in the Treasury Accounts under the new head, showing the opening balance, the total debits and credits and the closing balance for each month. On this Memo the Treasury should record a certificate that the balance has been verified with the pass book of the Revenue Department and found to agree and that the Revenue Department has accepted the balance as agreeing with the detailed accounts maintained by it. The Revenue Department should be required to record such a certificate every month on the pass book against the closing balance of the month shown in it. As all the transactions will be recorded in the pass book, the Revenue Department should have no difficulty in comparing the entries in its registers with those in the pass book and record the certificate required.

Method of recording remission.

9. Statements of remission sanctioned by the Revenue authorities, should be sent to the Treasury by the Taluk Office as soon as they are sanctioned together with the pass book. On receipt of these remission statements, the Treasury Officer will make a transfer adjustment in his accounts debiting the accounts as expenditure under the head "17 Miscellaneous-Boundary Marks Advances since July 1917 written off" by per contra credit to the advance head "Boundary Marks Advances since July 1917." He will at the same time note the credit in the pass book, the outstanding balnace in which will thereby be reduced in the same way as if the amounts remitted had been actually recovered. The Remission Statement received from the Taluk Office should be sent along with the Treasuary Accounts as a voucher for the charge.

Under proposed arrangement, verification will be effected in the initial stages.

10. As under this arrangement, complete verification will be effected in the initial stages between the primary accounts maintained in the Revenue Department and the Treasury, there will be no need for any further verification. The Comptroller's Office should only see that the items held under the head "Objection Book Advances" are cleared soon and that the certificate of verification required has been recorded on the monthly Plus and Minus Memos. A Broad Sheet should also be maintained in the Comptroller's Office by taluks showing the debits, credits, and balances as exhibited in the Plus and Minus Memos received from Treasuries and the entries in this Broad Sheet should be reconciled every month with the entries in the books of the Comptroller. At the close of the financial year, the closing balances for the year as shown in the Broad Sheet should be communicated to the Deputy Commissioners concerned with details of balances relating to each taluk and their acceptance obtained for report to Government in the Review of Balances. If there is any difference, it should be possible to reconcile it by a comparison of the departmental accounts with the entries in the pass book.

The same procedure may apply also to charges for tank maintenance recoverable from raiyats.

11. Charges incurred in the Public Works Department on account of the restoration of minor tanks and recoverable from raiyats are similar in nature. In their case also no steps are at present taken to see that the balances on the books of the Comptroller agree with the amounts outstanding in the Revenue Department Demand Registers. These charges are dibited in the Comptroller's books to the head "Tank Restoration Charges" and the vouchers furnished by the Public Works Department are forwarded to the Revenue authorities for apportionment of the charges among the raiyats concerned and for entry as demands against them in the revenue registers. An account is maintained in the Comptroller's office by detail of tanks to which they relate. The recoveries effected by the Revenue Department are credited in the Treasury accounts under the same head. Treasury Officers furnish schedules giving details of the recoveries by tanks and these are posted in the Comptroller's detailed accounts against the respective tanks. But there are no means of seeing whether the debits are actually included in the demand against the raiyats, and whether the total balance outstanding on the books of the Comptroller agrees with the total outstanding balance in the demand registers of the Revenue Department.

No. 6333-82—G. F. 90-17-4, DATED 24TH APRIL 1918.

ADVANCES FOR BOUNDARY MARKS CHARGES AND TANK MAINTENANCE CHARGES RECOVERABLE FROM RAIYATS.

Nature of this account.

The charges incurred by the Survey Department on account of boundary marks in occupied lands are recoverable from the raiyats occupying those lands and the bills on this account are therefore passed on to the Comptroller along with the Survey Departmental Accounts for transfer to the Revenue Department for recovery. These bills are at present debited in the Comptroller's Accounts to an advance head "Advances for Boundary Marks Charges recoverable from raiyats" by corresponding relief to the Survey Department in respect of the amounts drawn by it from the Treasury and charged in the Treasury Accounts to the head "Survey Advances." The debits on account of each district are posted in what is called a Broad Sheet showing the debits, credits and closing balance for each month in each district. The credit figures in the Broad Sheets are posted from the statements received from the treasuries in support of the credits appearing in the Treasury Accounts under this head on account of recoveries effected by the Revenue Department.

Particulars of the account kept in the Comptroller's Office.

2. Beyond this, no further account is kept in the Comptroller's Office in regard to these advances. The bills received from the Survey Department are merely copied in a register but no copy is kept of the detailed statements received with these bills showing all necessary particulars such as name of raiyats, etc., for the recovery of the amount from the parties concerned. The credits appearing in the Treasury Accounts are not also noted against the original debits copied in the register.

Cause of disagreement between the accounts of the Comptroller and of the Revenue Department.

3. The Deputy Commissioners send every year to the Comptroller an annual Demand, Collection and Balance Statement. The debits and credits shown in this statement are checked with the debits and credits in the Broad Sheet, but the remissions granted by the Deputy Commissioners are not adjusted in the Comptroller's Office. Partly for this reason and partly for the reason that there is no proper arrangement anywhere for the consolidation of the several items of Demand and Collection in the Revenue accounts of the various taluks with the consolidated figures in the Comptroller's office, there is no agreement between the figures shown in the Demand, Collection and Balance statements of the Deputy Commissioners and those in the Broad-Sheets kept in the Comptroller's Office. There has therefore been no verification between the two sets of figures nor has an attempt recently made for such verification in regard to the closing balance for 1915-16 proved successful.

Under present arrangement verification of figures is rendered impossible.

4. From this it is clear that there is no use attempting to verify the consolidated figures in the Comptroller's Office with the details scattered over the several taluks of the State without any attempt to consolidate the latter in the same manner as in the Comptroller's Office. But instead of attempting to consolidate the latter, which involves unnecessary duplication of work in requiring the Deputy Commissioners to consolidate taluk accounts and the Revenue Commissioner to consolidate district figures, I would arrange for the verification of the two sets of figures in the initial stage, i.e., at the Taluk Offices themselves instead of through the Deputy Commissioners or the Revenue Commissioner. For this purpose, I would suggest the following new procedure:—

Amounts of bills received from Survey Department to be debited to "objection book advances" and the Taluk Treasury required to adjust them.

5. The amounts of bills submitted by the Survey Department on this account with its monthly account are now debited in the Comptroller's Office as soon as the account is received without any acceptance by the Revenue Department which is responsible for the recovery of the amount from the raiyats along with the Revenue Khists. These amounts should in future be debited to the head "Objection Book Advances" in the Comptroller's Office in the first instance and the bills should be forwarded along with the detailed account of particulars, to the Deputy Commissioner of the district concerned for acceptance and transfer to the taluk concerned for note in the Revenue Demand Register for recovery. The Taluk Office should after such note present the bill at the Taluk Treasury for transfer adjustment of the amount of the bills by debit to a new head to be opened in the Treasury Account for transactions recorded under this new procedure, viz., "Boundary Marks Advances since July 1917." The Taluk Treasury is not to pay any money on these bills but only to adjust the amounts by transfer credit in the Treasury Accounts to the head "Objection Book Advances," and debit to the new head mentioned above.

Comptroller's Office to watch credit to the head "Objection Book Advances."

6. It should be the duty of the Comptroller's Office to watch that credit to the head "Objection Book Advances" is given in the accounts of the Taluk Treasury concerned by debit to the head "Boundary Marks Advances" as soon as possible. This will ensure that every such amount is actually brought on the Taluk Registers as a demand.

No. 6333-82—G. F. 90-17-4, DATED 24TH APRIL 1918.

12. Under the new procedure, the Public Works or the Marahmat Division, in which the expenditure is incurred, will send to the Comptroller as at present a schedule of such charges with the connected vouchers. The charges will be debited in the Comptroller's office to 'Objection Book Advances' and the details will be passed to the taluks concerned through the Deputy Commissioners. After the amounts of the charges have been apportioned against different raiyats, their amounts will be included in the Taluk Revenue Demand Registers and the taluk officers will present a bill to the Treasury for the total amount for transfer adjustment in the Treasury Accounts by debit to the head "Tank Maintenance Charges Recoverable from Raiyats since December 1917" by per contra credit to the head Objection Book Advances." These bills should be presented with a pass book in which the Treasury Officer will enter the amount on the debit side. When recoveries are effected the amounts would be sent with the pass book to the Treasury where they will be credited to the head "Tank Maintenance Charges Recoverable from Raiyats since December 1917." If the Treasury Officer sends a plus and minus memo at the end of the month duly certified to by the Revenue Department, the verification will be completed and effective, as the Comptroller will be able to see that the balances of his register agree with the balances shown in the plus and minus memos.
